

SCOTLAND BOARD OF EDUCATION
Board Policy

Commitment to Religious Neutrality

Notwithstanding anything which may inadvertently still appear in policy, the Board understands that administration and staff must recognize the First Amendment religious rights of students. The Board further recognizes that the United States constitution's first amendment imposes two equally important obligations on public schools.

First, schools must not forbid students acting on their own from expressing their personal religious views or beliefs. Second, schools may not endorse religious activity or doctrine and students may not coerce participation in religious activity.

Schools must give students the same rights to engage in religious activity and discussion, as they engage in other comparable activity. Generally, this means that students may pray in a non-disruptive manner during the school day when they are not engaged in school activity and instruction, subject to the same rules as apply to other speech.

This policy supersedes any other Board policy that might be inconsistent with it.
